THE STORY OF THIS WINE

Jemma is our trusty old Bush vehicle, our partner in many adventures in search of elusive African wild dogs. With only small and fragmented populations of African wild dogs left in the wild, sightings are rare and usually from the road less travelled. In the early days of Painted Wolf Wines, Jemma was a trusted work horse, pulling trailers full of grapes from the vineyards to the cellar. Making wine has been one of our best journeys, and we try to capture this sense of adventure in each bottle of Painted Wolf Wine.
